Profile:

Full-Stack Web Developer with a focus on JavaScript, Node.js, and a strong sense of rapport with SQL stemming from a personal interest in making things functional and then keeping them organized. Completed the University of Washington Professional and Continuing Education program for full-stack web development and computer coding, where I went above and beyond on every project and was a go-to help resource for those around me. Deployed attractive, fully functional, innovative, and user-friendly responsive apps. Always willing to approach any objective with lateral and creative thinking, my insight shapes the flow of work in many directions at the same time, whilst simultaneously streamlining and improving the code wherever possible. Thrilled at the prospect of being able to turn my skills outward to the professional world and create apps, software, or systems that could find their way into the public domain. Moved to USA from the United Kingdom in 2012.
